Clinical Programs and Services for Highmark Members

The Highmark Member Clinical Programs and Services catalog is a reference guide for health care providers. It is designed to assist in understanding the full range of programs and services available to Highmark members. It contains useful information and resources to give providers a comprehensive understanding of the programs offered to Highmark members in all service areas and for all lines of business. Providers should be aware that programs may be discontinued or additional information may become available and the catalog will be updated accordingly. Also, coverage for each program may vary based on member benefits and providers should encourage members to consult their benefit documentation for coverage details.

Highmark encourages providers to identify members who can benefit from Highmark programs and services. Please use the Case Management Referral and Inquiry link available via NaviNet® to submit a referral electronically or the Highmark Clinical Services Referral Form found on the Provider Resource Center to submit a referral via the dedicated referral fax number at 1-888-344-3455 unless otherwise noted in the program description, as several programs have a separate referral process.

CLINICAL CARE
Behavioral Health This program is appropriate for children, adolescents, and adults and includes a comprehensive assessment that encompasses several mental health conditions; bipolar disorders, anxiety disorders, depression, substance abuse, eating disorders, and schizophrenia or other psychotic disorder. Questions on neuropsychiatric testing, grief and loss, and a section on symptom reduction allow the case manager to track the impact of their condition on areas such as work and school, home, and social life.	●	●	●	●	●	●
Complex Case Management (CCM) This program is appropriate for an adult or pediatric member who has both complex medical conditions and high utilization, often accompanied by intensive service coordination and/or psychosocial support needs. It is a condition non-specific program by design and seeks to engage members based on the above criteria to reduce unnecessary inpatient admissions and emergency department visits. Registered nurse case managers work to coordinate care through a primary care provider (PCP) and provide education about other resource options, such as urgent-care and walk-in clinics. The program utilizes a multidisciplinary care team approach, which fosters collaboration and enhances coordination between Utilization Management, Case Management, Disease Management, Pharmacy, Behavioral Health, Social Work, Wellness, Medical Directors, and Providers through referral and consultation to more fully meet member needs.	●	●	●	●	●	●

Transition of Care (TOC) This program identifies members who are scheduled for certain inpatient hospital procedures for pre-op and post-discharge outreach calls, as well as any member who may have an unplanned admission to the hospital who is discharged to a home setting. The main focus of this program is to perform assessment of the 4 pillars of the Care Transitions Program® to support members and family during care transition, when they are most vulnerable to care errors. These pillars include Medication Self-Management, Red Flags, PCP Follow-up, and Dynamic Patient-Centered Health Record.	●	●	●	●	●	●
DISEASE MANAGEMENT
Asthma This program focuses on a plan of care for adults and children diagnosed with asthma that includes assessment questions specific for the three age groups recommended by the Expert Panel from the National Asthma Education and Prevention Program (NAEPP). Emphasis is placed on issues critical to asthma management, such as identification of the member's current level of asthma control by assessing daytime and nighttime asthma symptom frequency, excessive use of relief medications, the number of ER or urgent care visits or hospitalizations, the extent to which asthma symptoms affect daily activity, and the results of pulmonary function tests.	●	●	●	●	●	●
Coronary Artery Disease (CAD) This program is for the adult member diagnosed with CAD. Other conditions or diseases considered risk factors for CAD or that contribute to the risk for disease related complications — such as myocardial infarction, atrial fibrillation, diabetes, stroke, or carotid artery disease — are also assessed in this program. Vascular disease assessment is expanded to address venous and arterial insufficiency separately. This program focuses on the proper management of CAD, provides education regarding the disease process with emphasis on healthy lifestyle changes and self-management, and provides appropriate interventions with the goal of preventing avoidable adverse health outcomes and decreasing hospitalizations.	●	●	●	●	●	●

Congestive Heart Failure (CHF) This program is appropriate for the adult member diagnosed with CHF. Assessments focus on the following: symptom assessment and provider monitoring, the New York Heart Association (NYHA) Heart Failure Classification and stage-related effects on activities of daily living, strict medication, fluid restriction adherence, and careful management of comorbidities. Methods supporting the member's self-management serve to minimize symptoms, avoid hospitalizations and readmissions, and improve the member's quality of life. The program includes updates from the American Heart Association and the American College of Cardiology and Focused Update: ACCF/AHA Guidelines for the Diagnosis and Management of Heart Failure in Adults.	●	●	●	●	●	●
Chronic Obstructive Pulmonary Disease (COPD) This program focuses on the proper management of this chronic condition in an attempt to decrease ED visits and hospitalizations and help the member successfully manage the disease and its symptoms. Based on the Global Initiative for Chronic Obstructive Lung Disease (GOLD) standards, questions are included that assess the member's specific symptoms, risk factors, systemic effects, and the impact the disease has on the member's everyday activities. Common comorbid conditions that may impact the member with this condition are assessed as part of the treatment plan.	●	●	●	●	●	●
Depression Program This program is used to document member-related clinical activity related to a specific focus on depression. It enables Behavioral Health Specialists to assist members to select and access behavioral health resources and adhere more closely with their specialists' plans of care relative to a range of issues such as medication adherence, use of self-help supports and community resources, and other psychosocial needs members may have as it relates to symptoms of depression. Behavioral Health Specialists use the clinical program structure to interact with members on a short or longer term basis, depending on members' needs.	●	●	●	●	●	●
Diabetes This program is appropriate for adults or children diagnosed with either diabetes type 1 or type 2. Questions center on the current treatment plan, frequency of appropriate testing, and disease-related complications. The program reflects the current American Diabetes Association recommendations for target A1C values, annual eye and foot exams, and blood glucose monitoring (including continuous glucose monitoring). A pediatric diabetes questionnaire incorporates the growth and development needs of a pediatric member with diabetes.	●	●	●	●	●	●

Metabolic Syndrome This program is appropriate for adult members with an increased risk of cardiovascular events due to factors historically evaluated individually, such as increased abdominal girth, elevated fasting blood sugar and triglyceride levels, low HDL levels, pre-hypertension, and smoking history. It provides education and support for members who need to address the specific risk factors that separately may not appear to be significant but, when combined, create a significant potential for a cardiac event and type 2 diabetes.	●			●	●	●
Musculoskeletal This program is appropriate for adults with acute or chronic low back pain, rheumatoid and osteoarthritis pain, and other musculoskeletal pain that can be the result of a disease process or an injury. The aim of this program is to optimize members' adherence to follow-up care or therapy and to help members relieve or manage their musculoskeletal pain to return to their prior level of functioning. New to this program is a section focusing exclusively on low back pain, its cause, treatment, and assessment of its impact on work and activities of daily living. The program's questions ensure members are assessed for appropriate testing, services, and care they need to manage pain.	●			●	●	●
SOCIAL WORK
Social Support This program focuses on assisting members who are experiencing difficulties in areas of their life that can impact their health, well-being, and access to care. Licensed, master's-level social workers will telephonically partner with members to conduct a complete needs assessment, explore Social Determinants of Health (SDOH) that may be barriers to their care, and develop a plan to explore and contact agencies, resources, and programs that may be of assistance. Areas where the social work team can assist may include: financial concerns related to food/rent/mortgage/utilities; housing and placement difficulties — instability, homelessness, adaptations (ramps, safety), level of care (skilled, custodial, assisted living); transportation challenges — lack of vehicle or driver for medical and non-medical needs; caregiver support or care planning needs; income, employment or insurance concerns and questions; financial difficulties related to medication costs, copays, medical bills; end of life decisions — POA, Living Will, palliative/hospice care; and discharge planning.	●	●	●	●	●	●

TARGETED PROGRAMS
Aspire (Chronic Condition Program) In collaboration with Aspire Health, the Aspire Chronic Condition program is designed to provide in-home support services for the patient and their family throughout the course of illness. Members are not required to be homebound or meet skilled level of care criteria to be eligible for services. In-home nurse practitioners work closely with the patient's physician to coordinate health care services, identify qualifying community resources, manage symptoms, provide emotional support, and align decisions regarding future care options. Working closely with the patient and physician, the clinical team seeks to improve the quality of member care outcomes by enhancing the patient and family understanding of the disease process, their medications, and prescribed treatment. The program's goal is to help ensure the patient gets the right care at the right time and in the most appropriate setting with clinical care team availability 24/7 to assist and guide patients and caregivers.
